Towns March to Honor Veterans

Marion hosted the Tri-Town Veterans' Parade with Marion's Selectmen and State Representative John Bradford leading the march. The current events in Berlin and in other crumbling communist nations made the day's honoring of the sacrifices of our country's defenders particularly significant. Those who fought for freedom are finally witnessing the reality as the slave nations release the first of their chains. Our parade may be a small thing in the eyes of the world but small things, like the break in the Berlin wall, unleash a mighty force.

How easy it has become for us to respond to all events around us with a great deal of distance. What is there in life that moves us? Is there anything at all we can read or see that causes us to respond in any other than a negative fashion, if at all? In an analytic age are there parts of our being that we have neglected to develop?

The sermon title is "Pens, Paintbrushes & Politics: The Problem of Emotional Illiteracy" for this Sunday's service at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. The service begins at 10:30 a.m. and nursery service is provided.

PLAY ON EMERGENCY MEDICAL SYSTEMS

St. Luke's Hospital Emergency Room staff, students, paramedics, and Globe Theater actors presented a play at an assembly for Old Rochester Regional Junior High School students to make them aware of the necessary emergency medical system in the treatment of alcohol and cocaine abuse that the hospital, social service and clergy provide. Intensive treatment to meet the victim and family's emotional, medical and educational needs was addressed.

Cindy Ziewacz, an emergency room nurse, facilitated the program. A representative from District Attorney Pina's office was also present at the assembly.

The Workshop will review the procedure for automotive programs to become certified by the National Automotive Technicians Education Foundation. Mr. Mosher, who is certified by NATEF, will work with educators from Massachusetts who are interested in having their automotive programs certified in the future. Only three schools in Massachusetts are certified by NATEF, Old Colony being one of the three.

The NATEF standards of excellence are uniform throughout the nation. They have been field tested and validated by teams of experts assembled under the auspices of the Automobile Mechanic Training Evaluation Project and directed by the Industry Planning Council of AVA. Employees therefore have a common measure for job applicants and an assurance that these applicants have completed a training program of high quality.

Mr. Mosher will present the day-long workshop at Assabet Regional Vocational Technical High School.

"Rite of Fall"

MARION ART CENTER

The time is fast approaching for the arrival of the 1989 Beaujolais Nouveau wine. The date of this annual "Rite of Fall", which is governed by French law, has traditionally been a festive event in France. Wine lovers await its release, filling French cafes and wateringholes throughout the world for that "first taste" of the new vintage wine.

Beaujolais Nouveau is the very first release of the current vintage, bottled very young to capture all the fruit and freshness of the recently harvested grapes. It makes no pretense of finesse - it is a light-hearted wine for drinking NOW.

The first bottles of Nouveau to arrive in this country are flown in from France, much to the delight of sippers too anxious to await its normal journey by ship.

In this tradition, the Marion Art Center and Spirits are pleased to present their own "Beaujolais Nouveau Tasting", giving all area oenophilists an opportunity to sample this year's vintage. The gala event will take place on Friday, November 17th, from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres and musical entertainment are included in the ticket prices: $8.00 for members of the pares to 16,325 closed in October and represents 25.9% of the 63,841 acres presently closed in the Commonwealth.

Following are totals for the 11 municipalities around Buzzards Bay, west to east: Town of Westport, 1,534 acres (plus 555 which close seasonally due to rainfall and stormwater runoff); Town of Dartmouth, 2,115; Town of Acushnet, 58.6; City of New Bedford, 4,168; Town of Fairhaven, 5,043; Town of Mattapoisett, 440; Town of Marion, 212; Town of Wareham, 838; Town of Bourne, 1,410; Town of Falmouth, 8.6; Town of Gosnold, 170. In Falmouth and Gosnold only closures fronting on Buzzards Bay are included here, not those on Nantucket Sound.

Frank Germano, senior biologist with the Division of Marine Fisheries, reports that fecal coliform counts have remained unusually high for this time of year, leading to large numbers of closures along the Massachusetts coastline.

The Coalition for Buzzards Bay urges residents to take aggressive steps on a personal level to lessen contamination going into the Bay:

1. Pump septic systems every two years, more often if used heavily. Those suspicious about the effectiveness of their systems should get professional help and replace failing systems if warranted.
2. Boat septage may not be discharged legally closer than three miles from shore; boaters are urged to use pump-outs where available and to work for installation of these where lacking.
3. Pet owners are reminded to clean up after their animals on beaches and anywhere that stormwater can carry feces into drains or streams.

Wins 3rd Consecutive

Joseph P. Keller, developer of the Brandt Island Golf Club in Fairhaven and Mattapoisett, won his third consecutive Cape Cod Amateur Golf Championship on Sunday, November 5th, with a two up victory over Dick Stimets. It was the second straight year Keller and Stimets had met in the finals of the event which is played annually at the Hyannisport Golf Club.

Keller becomes only the second person to win the championship three straight years. Earlier this year Keller had been runnerup in the Massachusetts Mid-Amateur Championship (an event he won in 1986 and 1987) and he was also a semi-finalist in the Massachusetts Amateur Championship in July.

St. Luke's Hospital

On November 17th St. Luke's Hospital of New Bedford becomes a healthier place. One year ago on November 17, 1988, the hospital announced a new smoking policy which would eventually make the institution a smoke-free environment following a three phase reduction period. This November 17, one year later, St. Luke's becomes smoke free, as the last place - the cafeteria - where smoking is permitted is turned into a no smoking area.

The policy prohibits smoking within the hospital's buildings; it includes patients, staff and visitors. The clean air policy was developed by a task force composed of smokers, non-smokers, and former smokers and overwhelmingly endorsed by the hospital's board of trustees. "One of the most significant factors leading to the task force's recommendation to ban smoking at the hospital", said Robert Gauthier, task force chairman and vice president for General Services, "is the unquestionable health issue linking smoking to many debilitating and fatal diseases. Smoking is also known to cause detrimental effects on non-smokers who share smoke filled environments. Therefore, as an institution dedicated to the delivery of good patient care, it is simply incongruous for the hospital to offer its health care services in an environment that allows the harmful activity of smoking."

The trend to keep public places smoke-free is also rapidly becoming the expectation of society, particularly when it involves an institution devoted to health care. "For most people", continued Mr. Gauthier, "the full implementation of this policy is a breath of fresh air; however, for some it may unfortunately prove to be a difficult adjustment even though they knew about it a year ago."

To help prepare for the transition, the hospital will celebrate the American Cancer Society's great American Smoke-Out Day on November 16th. The Great American Smoke-Out helps to create an encouraging climate to start smokers on the path to quitting the habit for good. St. Luke's also offers a Stop Smoking Program and a Support Group for those who have recently quit or who are in the process of deciding to quit.

award-winning television program "St. Elsewhere". One critic called a "tour de force" his performance on the program's two-part episode in which he was shot, died, visited the afterlife, and was revived.

Ten years ago Mandel was selling carpets in Toronto. During a visit to Hollywood, he took part in Amateur Night at the Comedy Store in Los Angeles. He left the stage after three minutes of improvisation, and was offered a spot on the syndicated game show "Make Me Laugh".

Since then he has been drawing crowds in clubs, on stages, and on campuses. He has appeared in several films and this month will tape "Howie Mandel Live" for airing later this year on the Showtime cable channel.

Tickets are $12. for the public and $9. for students. They are on sale now and, unless sold out, will be available at the door. For information call 999-8598.

Q. I just got a job in a chemical plant but I've been told I can't wear my contacts because the fumes may damage them. Is that true?

A. No. Contact lenses can be worn safely in eye hazardous jobs, if the proper eye safety equipment is worn over them. Nor can chemical fumes damage the tough plastic out of which contact lenses are made.

Occasionally, eyes will water excessively during exposure to chemical fumes. That could interfere with your ability to see whether or not you wear contacts. Your optometrist can evaluate whether or not that would be a problem for you.

People who work around welding arcs and electrical sparks also can wear contacts under their eye safety equipment. Reports of welding arcs or electrical sparks fusing a contact lens on the eye are false.

If you habitually wear contact lenses, you will see better on the job with them than with eyeglasses. Every effort should be made, therefore, to enable you to wear them safely while you work.

pense comedy revealing what happens when a penny ante entrepreneur and a beautiful drifter get caught up in the treacherous game of illicit weapons trade. "Discover Where the Money Is" through this jeering look at greed, sales, and capitalism at its worst. This two-act surprise comedy written and directed by Peter Weiner will twist through your intellect while dazzling your imagination.

In the past two years Peter Weiner has composed four full-length plays, three of which he has directed; two teleplays and a screen play. "Where the Bigger Money Is" is Mr. Weiner's New England debut, to be followed by "Host" which will be produced this spring.

His play marks the third presentation of 14 new works by Massachusetts Playwrights, scheduled to be held at the Priscilla Beach Theatre this fall and spring.

BCC Theater Rep

Bristol Community College Theater Rep's mainstage productions of Jean-Claude van Itallie's The Serpent and Jules Feiffer's Fieffer's People will be performed at Bristol Community College November 16, 17 and 18.

The story of Genesis provides the framework for The Serpent. Here the first man, the first woman, the first sexual encounter and the first murder are portrayed. Created by van Itallie in Joseph Chaikin's Open Theater, The Serpent is deeply rooted in Biblical mythology. Through it the hidden basis for many of the choices we make in our everyday lives can be found according to Chaikin. One critic said The Serpent was clearly the best of the open theater because it has humor. And the words, like the gestures, are respected by the performers, not trampled on or turned into useless sounds.

Feiffer's People is a revue of this world-renowned author's cartoon Feiffer. He writes primarily social satires directed at the upper and middle classes and his views are progressive. He achieves humor through exaggeration, sight-gags and word play. His themes include sex, power and the foibles of American society as seen in its conversation and attitudes.

Both plays will be presented in the Arts Center Theater at 8 p.m. on November 16, 17 and 18. A special matinee performance will also be performed on Friday, November 17th, at 1 p.m. Tickets cost $6. for general admission and $3. for students and senior citizens. They are available at the door. For more information call the college at 678-2811, ext. 112,

Great American Smokeout

All superstition aside, the number 13 will be lucky for a record number of people who plan to give up cigarettes for 24 hours on November 16 - the day of the American Cancer Society's 13th Annual Great American Smokeout.

The Smokeout enters its teen years with an ambitious goal -- for 20 percent of the nation's 50 million smokers to breathe only clean air for a day. If someone meets the challenge of quitting for one day, they're a step closer to becoming a permanent nonsmoker, said Nick Ingala, chairman of the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division public information committee.

"It takes several tries for most people before they quit cigarettes for good", Mr. Ingala said. "The Great American Smokeout is a lighthearted celebration that creates an atmosphere of public support for quitters. The positive tide can help carry people through the difficult moments when the craving for nicotine strikes."

During the 1988 Smokeout, 18.4 million Americans participated by either qutting or cutting down during the 24 hour period. Of the participants, 3.4 million were still not smoking one to three days later.

"The Great American Smokeout is becoming a teenager at a time when smoking prevention and cessation for teens is emerging as a crucial issue", Mr. Ingala said. More than 50 percent of all current adult smokers were already hooked on cigarettes by the time they were 13, he said. Seven percent of sixth graders in Massachusetts today are already addicted to nicotine. Schools across the state will participate in the Smokeout, as will hospitals, companies, and community

"The average age to start smoking in Massachusetts is now 10 years old", Mr. Ingala said. Of all current Massachusetts residents under age 19, more than 80,000 will eventually be killed by tobacco, according to Massachusetts Department of Public Health statistics. Ninety percent of lifetime smokers have started by the time they graduate from high school.

New Smokeout materials for 1989 include several items to encourage young audiences to either quit or not start smoking. A button for grade school students pictures teddy bear with the message "Be beary healthy--please don't smoke". Mr. Spock from the television show Star Trek displays his "live long and prosper" greeting on a Smokeout poster and postcard, telling the public that "quitting smoking is highly logical".

Co-chairing the Great American Smokeout nationally are actor Larry Hagman, known for his role as J.R. Ewing on television's "Dallas", and former U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop, M.D. In a television spot to be released this fall the two urge smokers to "leave the pack behind" on November 16th.

Planning kits for companies, college campuses, hospitals and schools, as well as order forms and more information about the Great American Smokeout, are available by calling local offices of the Society or the Massachusetts Division headquarters at 1-800-952-7664.

WHY K2 ENGINEERS SPENT SO MUCH TIME DESIGNING A SKI THAT'S HARDLY EVER ON THE SNOW.

No ski is going to do much for you while you're airborne. So you'd better have one that can make the most of it upon reentry.

That's what the Gyrator is all about. The look is radical and the performance is hot. It rips in the bumps, but it's more than a mogul ski. This light, hyper ski is quick and catlike all over the mountain, even on ice.

So go ahead and take off. Because every time you land, you'll appreciate the time K2 spent on the drawing board. And the fact that we carry them!
